

THE PEOPLE'S ISSUE A GREAT SUCCESS

UNITED STATES BONDS ARE IN DEMAND.

Offer Made For the $100,000,000 Lot
Approximate Nearly Six Times the Amount Required—Senator Vest
Critiques Morton—Doings of the Day in the House.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Four thousand six hundred and forty bids for $558,269,850 worth of bonds. This is the tremendous total of the subscriptions opened at the treasury department Wednesday in accordance with the terms of the call issued a month ago, inviting proposals for $100,000,000 of United States 4 per cent bonds, to run for thirty years from Feb. 1, 1895. These figures do not include about $120,000,000 of "crank" bids rejected as bogus. The immense offerings astounded experts. The bids literally swamped the treasury department, which was so taken by surprise that at 6 o'clock at night, although extra clerks had been hurriedly drafted, the work of tabulating the bids was still in progress, and it was impossible to tell with definiteness how many bids and for what aggregate had been received at figures in advance of the upset price of 110.6877, at which a syndicate composed of J. P. Morgan & Co., Harvey Fisk & Co., and the Deutsche Bank of Berlin offered to take the whole loan.

The bids ranged from par up to a single $50 bid at 150. Treasury officials regard the loan as a complete success, both as to the popular subscription feature and the prices obtained.

Bids came from several thousand individuals and from hundreds of national banks and other banking institutions. Nearly all the leading New York bankers and big insurance companies were represented on the list of bidders, but with few exceptions they were outmaneuvered by the Morgan syndicate.

Owing to the confusion caused by the magnitude of the offerings and the consequent delay in classifying and scheduling the bids any authoritative statement of policy that will be pursued cannot be made at this time.

As the great bulk of the offerings were below the Morgan figure, it is believed that the syndicate, headed by the great New York banker, will be accepted for at least $50,000,000 and possibly more. In any event no bid below the syndicate rate of 110.6877 will be accepted, as that rate covers the entire loan.

It is understood that Mr. Morgan will procure a part of the gold from abroad and will not need to deplete the treasury to furnish any part of the gold called for under his bid.

There are a vast number of bids for figures fractionally rising 110, but under the Morgan figure, and for amounts aggregating sufficient to take up the entire loan. Among them were the offers of the Stewart & McCall syndicates, including the big insurance, banking and trust companies of New York city, which stood ready to take huge blocks of bonds at figures in excess of prices named a week ago as high mark for long lots.

SENT THE BILL BACK.

District of Columbia Appropriation Bill
Defeated in the House.

Washington, Feb. 6.—After a hot debate, following its defeat, the District of Columbia appropriation bill was re-committed to the finance committee, Wednesday. Amendments making appropriations for sectarian charitable institutions were voted down and the bill put upon its final passage. The speaker announced the vote—135 yeas, 143 nays. Sixty-one Republicans voted against the bill.

Mr. Grosvenor (rep.) of Ohio moved to reconsider. The motion was carried—189 yeas, 139 nays. Mr. Grosvenor then moved to re-commit the bill, with instructions to re-examine the bill and report on the subdivisions under the head of charities. The motion was carried without division.

At 3 o'clock the house went into committee of the whole (Mr. Paine in the chair) and took up the consideration of the free coinage substitute for the house bond bill.

Chairman Dingley gave notice that at the proper time, under the instruction of the committee on ways and means, he would move to nonconcur. Mr. Dingley spoke almost two hours. Mr. Crisp gave notice that at the proper time he would move that the house concur in the senate substitute.

At 5 o'clock the house took a recess until 8 o'clock for the purpose of allowing members to speak in the evening. There were less than fifty members at the night session of the house and the galleries were a barren waste. Mr. Bell (rep.) of Colorado, Wilson (rep.) of Idaho, Little (dem.) of Arkansas, Linney (rep.) of North Carolina and Shafroth (rep.) of Colorado argued in favor of concurring in the senate free coinage substitute, and Mr. Daniel (rep.) of New York in favor of the committee's recommendation to nonconcur. At 10:35 the house adjourned.

VEST ARRAIGNS MORTON.

Secretary of Agriculture Bitterly Criticized by the Missouri Senator.
Washington, Feb. 6.—Secretary Morton was the object of a fierce attack in the senate Wednesday. The occasion was the debate on the Hansbrough seed resolution. Mr. Quay's resolution to recommit the tariff-silver bill with instructions was supposed to be the first in order of consideration after the routine business. It was found, however, that the Hansbrough resolution had precedence. The presiding officer explained that after the seed resolution was disposed of Mr. Quay's resolution would be taken up, and if the former was not disposed of that the Quay resolution should come up to-day.

The Hansbrough resolution was then taken up and Mr. Vest took the floor in support of it. Mr. Vest severely criticised the practice of furnishing costly flowers from government greenhouses for the receptions at the executive mansion. He closed shortly after 2 o'clock with a remarkably sarcastic and bitter peroration. Mr. Vest's speech proceeded beyond 2 o'clock, disposing of the Quay resolution for the day.

The resolution to distribute appropriation bills among the several committees was again taken up. Mr. Teller took occasion during the debate to refer to the success of the bond issue. Large as the offerings are they would have been larger if the secretary of the treasury had received bids at a fixed price for the bonds. Clumsy and awkward as the bond submission had been, lacking the essential features of a popular loan, yet it completely answered those who had talked of the necessity of looking to foreign syndicates to sustain our credit.

The debate on distributing the appropriation bills ran through the entire afternoon and was not concluded when the senate went into executive session and then adjourned until to-day.

WANT CURA RECOGNIZED.

Resolution to That Effect Reported to the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The senate committee on foreign relations has agreed upon a substitute for the resolution heretofore reported on the question of the recognition of Cuba and Senator Morgan reported it to the senate, saying it met with his full approval. The substitute is in the shape of a concurrent resolution. As reported it is as follows:

"Resolved, By the senate, the house of representatives concurring, that in the opinion of congress a condition of public war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba; and that the United States of America should maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers and accord to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States."

Senator Call gave notice that he would call up the resolution as soon as he could secure the attention of the senate. The foreign affairs committee voted to make an effort to take up the Cuban question in the senate as soon as the urgent deficiency bill and the resolution for the distribution of the appropriation bills can be disposed of.

DEBATE NOT HAMPERED.

No Restriction Placed on Talk on Free Coinage Bill.

Washington, Feb. 6.—No agreement has yet been reached in the house on the amount of time to be given to the debate on the senate free coinage substitute for the bond bill. In order to give as many statesmen a chance to talk as desire evening sessions have been begun, and will be continued until the matter is disposed of. There is no disposition on the part of Mr. Reed or the party leaders on the floor to cut off the debate, although it is thought that the house will by an overwhelming majority refuse to concur in the senate silver amendment. Contrary to the usual custom no special rule has been reported, but the house will consider the measure in committee of the whole and reach a vote by a practically unanimous agreement by the end of the week.

To Prevent the Prizefight.

Washington, Feb. 6.—In the house Wednesday Delegate Catron, of New Mexico, introduced a bill to prevent the pugilistic festival near El Paso. Mr. Catron asked for unanimous consent for consideration, but Mr. Knox (rep.) of Massachusetts, objected, and the bill was referred.

SITUATION IS GRAVE.

Prolonged Fight Over Kentucky Senatorship May Lead to Bloodshed.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 6.—The senatorial situation here is grave. There appears no way to avert serious conflict between the opposing sides, which may result in bloodshed and loss of life. On the result of today's deliberations depends the outcome of the seriousness of the situation. The plan as arranged by the republicans is to unseat Kaufmann and Tompkins, the two democratic representatives whose seats are contested by republicans. As soon as this is done the senate will oust four democrats, but cannot seat anyone, as there are no contests, but charges will be preferred for violation of the law.

There is fear on all sides of trouble at the capitol. Captain Gaines, of the local militia, is holding in readiness his company, and will be at the capitol at a moment's notice.

There was a prolonged caucus held by both parties last night. Senator Blackburn went into the halls of the democratic caucus at 8 o'clock. He made an earnest appeal to sound money democrats to stand by their party and prevent the election of a republican senator.

JACKSON SAYS HE KILLED MISS BRYAN

CINCINNATI'S MURDER MYSTERY IS SOLVED.

The Young Woman's Name Was Pearl Bryan and Her Home Greencastle, Ind.—Scott Jackson, a Dental Student at Cincinnati, Under Arrest For the Crime—He Confesses All.

Cincinnati, Feb. 6.—Scott Jackson confesses to the murder of Pearl Bryan and implicates Alonzo M. Walling, a fellow student. This solves the mystery. Last Saturday morning the body of a woman, evidently murdered, with the head cut off, was found near Fort Thomas, Ky., a few miles from this city. Since then the officers of this city, Newport and Covington, Ky., have exhausted every effort to find the murderer. The first clew was struck yesterday at Greencastle, Ind., developing one of the most brutal murders on record.

At 10:18 at night the following telegram came flashing over the wires and was delivered five minutes later: "Greencastle, Ind.—To Col. Dietsch, Chief of Police, Cincinnati: Arrest and charge with murder of Pearl Bryan one Scott Jackson, student at dental college, about 25 years old, 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, weighs about 135, blonde, sandy mustache, light complexion, effeminate in appearance. Arrest if in Cincinnati. William Wood, friend of Jackson, and charge as accomplice; about 20 years old, 5 feet 11 inches, light blonde hair, smooth face, rather slender, weight about 165. We go from here to South Bend after Wood, as he left here for that place."

Accordingly, at 10:45 o'clock Scott Jackson was in the mayor's office under examination by the mayor and chief of police. The culprit was perfectly described in the above telegram from the detectives. He stood the ordeal with apparent calmness, though it lasted till midnight, most of the time before the mayor and chief alone.

The prisoner, Scott Jackson, was clean and neatly dressed and youthful in appearance. His naturally ruddy face flushed perceptibly under the examination and his light blue eyes wandered from his questioners in spite of a visible effort to bear up and look them square in the eyes. He faltered slightly, but immediately braced up.

There was at no time an expression of indignation at his arrest. Nor did he exhibit any signs that he felt humiliated by it. His account of his whereabouts last Friday night was not by any means satisfactory, nor conclusively was it conclusively convicting. He denied guilt, but admitted that he knew Pearl Bryan. He could tell nothing about where she was or where she had been during the past few weeks.

The worst point of Jackson's story—the weakest part of it—is that about his conduct on last Saturday night. He boarded at 222 West Ninth street, next to Robinson's Opera House. On Saturday he took a valise and left it in Lenger's saloon, opposite his boarding-house. This valise he carried with him all over the city that day and evening. The theory is that the head of the murdered girl was probably in the valise and he was traveling about with it to destroy it without being discovered. The accounting for this valise and why he carried it all day and night puzzled him more than anything else. In fact, he prevaricated, and afterward acknowledged that he had lied. He is committed without bail.

CLOTHING RECOGNIZED.

Parents of the Murdered Girl Sure of Her Identity.

Greencastle, Ind., Feb. 6.—The family of A. S. Bryan, a leading farmer living less than two miles from this city, have identified the clothing brought here by detectives from Cincinnati and Newport, Ky., as that of their daughter Pearl Bryan, aged 23 years, who left home Jan. 28, ostensibly to visit her friend, Miss Jane Fisher, on Central avenue, Indianapolis.

They have made every possible inquiry, and find that she did not visit Miss Fisher in Indianapolis, but that she was taken to Cincinnati by Scott Jackson. She took with her a switch of hair which was brought here by the officers and identified as well as the clothing, and as well as locks of her own hair. The mother of Scott Jackson lives here and the families were intimate and highly respected. The Bryan family also gave information that led the officers to order the arrest of William Wood, the son of Rev. D. M. Wood, of South Bend, Ind.

Father Fitzgerald Convicted.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 6.—After a deliberation of four hours, the jury in the Fitzgerald case brought in a verdict of guilty of arson in the second degree last night. Eighteen years ago Father Fitzgerald took charge of Holy Cross Church at Charlotte. He dealt extensively in real estate. For several years past his financial condition has been going from bad to worse.

Fremont, Neb., Feb. 6.—The Nebraska Beet Sugar association met here Wednesday. Six hundred delegates were present. R. M. Allen of Ames was chosen president and W. N. Nason of Omaha secretary.

RICHARD KLATKE FEARED STARVATION

THE CHICAGO CARPENTER'S AWFUL CRIME.

Despondent and Out of Work, He Removed His Parents, Wife and Children Beyond the Reach of Starvation—Murder Was Deliberate and Was Accomplished With Care.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Crowds still surround the Klatke house, where a ven lives were taken yesterday. A peculiar feature of the crime was the lack of any indication of a struggle on the part of any of the victims, and a heavy odor, which appeared to be that of chloroform, pervaded the house. From this it was surmised that Richard had first chloroformed the entire family, and had then, at his leisure, taken deliberate aim and had put the bullet into the brain of each.

Klatke was despondent. His family was cold and hungry. Since Christmas he had been out of work, and he ended his troubles.

A close examination of the remains showed that one of the victims alone had any warning of her fate. This was Mrs. Kate Klatke, the wife of the murderer. She, it appeared, had struggled with her husband before the fatal shot was fired. Her hands were scratched and her clothing torn. She had evidently been overpowered and thrown on the bed beside the dead body of her little 7-year-old daughter, Emma. The pillow and bed clothing were saturated with blood which had flowed from the wound in the right cheek just below the eye of each. The bullets had been fired at close range and the faces of the victims were burned and torn by the force of the powder.

In another room a still more sanguinary spectacle presented itself. On one of the two beds lay the bodies of the aged couple, each with a revolver bullet through the right cheek. Neither seemed to have stirred from the position of rest which they had taken on retiring. In each case powder burns told of the close range at which the shots were fired.

On the other bed lay the other two children, Mina and Anna, each with features calm and peaceful, as though in sleep, but disfigured by the awful blackened wound in the right cheek.

On the floor was the body of the murderer with his revolver by his side. Six empty cartridge shells were strewn about the floor. He had emptied his weapon and reloaded it. One shot of the new load was needed to complete the work, and it found its way into Klatke's brain.

On a chair lay a whetstone and two knives, each of which had been sharpened to the keen edge of a razor. It was evident that Klatke had prepared for a possible failure of his revolver and had arranged for a certain substitute. The knives were not needed. His aim was true and in every case, the doctor said, and death must have been instantaneous.

Victory for the G. A. R.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The Chicago Great Western Road notified the chairman of the Western Passenger Association yesterday that it would give the members of the Grand Army of the Republic thirty days' limit on tickets to the reunion at St. Paul. This means that the Grand Army of the Republic has scored a victory over the Western Passenger Association, which refused to extend the limit beyond seven days, and no doubt now remains that all the other lines will meet the action of the Chicago Great Western, regardless of the agreement to confine the limit to seven days.

Will Call No Special Session.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 6.—The report of the petitions to the governor to call a special session of the legislature to pass a new apportionment law is not confirmed here. Gov. Matthews said he had received no petitions of that nature, and if he should, they would not cause him to change his mind. He is opposed to a special session and the republicans are beginning to come around to the belief that they will have to let the election go under the law of 1885.

The Swoverland Murder Case.

Plymouth, Ind., Feb. 6.—The coroner's inquest in the Swoverland murder case after five days' deliberation returned a verdict Wednesday exonerating Stewart. Stewart was discharged from custody, but immediately rearrested on a warrant sworn out by Meredith Swoverland, a son of the murdered man. At the preliminary hearing he waived examination and was committed to the grand jury without bail.

The rates and arrangements are not known.

WAITING FOR WEYLER.

New Captain-General of Cuba Needed at the Front.

Havana, Feb. 6.—General Pando arrived here on Sunday and is awaiting the expected arrival of General Weyler, the newly appointed captain-general from Spain. A story has been put in circulation that disgust prevails among the insurgent leaders over the loss of the steamer J. W. Hawkins and the failure of the expedition she had on board. These malcontents, it is alleged, hold Estrada Palma responsible for the loss of the Hawkins. General Gomez and Senor Portuondo, Cuban minister of state, are reported to be very angry over the affair.

An engagement of considerable importance is reported to have taken place Tuesday at the village of Manjaural, province of Matanzas, between the Spanish column commanded by Colonel Vicuna and the bands under the leadership of Cayito, Alvarez, Roque and Amieva. The fight lasted half an hour and in that time thirty men and thirty horses were killed belonging to the insurgents. A medicine chest, arms and ammunition fell into the hands of the troops. The troops lost two men wounded.

APACHES ON THE WARPATH.

Settlers Near San Carlos Agency Expect a General Uprising.

Fort Thomas, Ari., Feb. 6.—The San Carlos Apaches are again on the rampage. Sam Hinton, a cow man, while riding along the reservation, was fired upon from ambush at a point about fifteen miles from San Carlos agency. He avoided the shots and arrived safely at San Carlos, the nearest station where assistance could be found. All settlers in this vicinity are confidently expecting an attack in the near future.

Bricker, Pennsylvania; J. F. Willets, Kansas, and W. L. Peake, Georgia, executive committee.

Diaz Opposed to Prize Fights.

City of Mexico, Feb. 6.—The position of the Mexican government on the impending prize fight between Maher and Fitzsimmons is that every State in the American Union has legislated against prize fighting, and Mexico cannot permit that which is condemned by public opinion in the United States. President Diaz is opposed to allowing the fight to come off on Mexican soil, and frankly says so.

Total Failure of Bank at Rome.

Rome, N. Y., Feb. 6.—The failure of the Fort Stanwix national bank is complete, and Comptroller Eckels decides that it must go into the hands of a receiver. The entire capital stock, surplus and individual profits, amounting in all to $320,000, have been swept away. The shortage in the accounts will amount to over $400,000. The deposits aggregated $700,000 or $800,000.

Venezuela Will Pay Germany.

New York, Feb. 6.—A dispatch to the World from Caracas, Venezuela, says: "The German government says that it will recognize the Monroe doctrine, but will not release Venezuela from a just debt. Germany demands that the railroad claim be paid, but does not threaten force. It is stated that Venezuela will pay the claim."

Compelled to Serve in German Army.

Sibley, Ia., Feb. 6.—Fred H. Bruns, of Lyon county, a naturalized citizen of the United States, who returned to Germany on a visit, complains that he is being held for service in the German army. Congressman Perkins will bring the matter to the attention of the state department.

OLD MAN WAS KILLED CLIMBING A FENCE

PROMINENT JUNCTION CITY PRESIDENT SHOT.

He Climbed a Fence Gun in Hand and the Weapon Went Off, Killing Him Instantly—Had Been Hunting Near His Home—Woman Burned to Death.

Junction City, Feb. 6.—[Special]—Charles Hollbrook, an old and prominent resident, shot and instantly killed himself while hunting near here this morning. He was climbing through a fence, and the gun was accidentally discharged.

Milwaukee, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Ellen G. Messer, was burned to death this morning at her home, 184 West Twenty Fourth street. Just how the accident occurred is not known, as the first intimation of it was given by Mrs. Messer herself when she rushed from the back door of her house into the yard, with her clothing in flames. It is believed, however, that she was cleaning or otherwise attending to a lamp, and that in striking a match to try the wick she ignited her dress.

TO AMEND MULET LAW.

Two Bills Introduced in the Iowa Senate Wednesday.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 6.—Mr. Early (Rep.) of Sac Wednesday introduced in the house two bills to amend the mulet law under the provisions of which liquor is sold in Iowa. The first eliminates from the law the section requiring the signatures of 65 per cent of the voters in counties having no town of 5,000 inhabitants to petitions of consent to the sale of liquors. If the bill should become a law it would leave these counties in the same position as those containing cities able to permit the sale of liquors on the petition of a majority of voters. The other bill applies the mulet tax of $600 per annum and as much more as may be added by city councils to pharmacists holding permits who sell liquors for use as beverages. It is thought the bills have a good chance to become law.

There is every indication that the legislature will change the method of drawing juries in the state in a very important respect. Two years ago a law was passed to provide that jurors should be drawn from the total number of voters in the counties. The law has been conceded a failure, resulting in getting men of too low a standard of intelligence on juries. The judiciary committee of the senate has considered a measure to return to the old system, with some modifications, and will report it favorably. It is proposed, however, that a larger number of names shall be reported to the county clerk, from which to draw jury lists, than was required under the old law.

CAUSED BY VIOLENCE.

Physicians Declare that Clara Shanks Was Not Drowned.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 6.—The two physicians who were asked by citizens to examine the body of Clara Shanks the day after the coroner rendered a verdict of suicide by drowning because they suspected she had been killed furnished the testimony Wednesday in the Keller-Shanks murder trial. These physicians reported at the time that she had died from drowning. One of them, Dr. Caplinger, testified Wednesday that he was present as a witness at the autopsy held ten days later and signed the report that death was caused by external injuries. On the occasion of the first examination, he said, he had noticed the scars on the face and the marks on the throat, but did not think they presented sufficient evidence of violence to change his opinion that the girl had been drowned. He did not examine the neck to discover if the bones were dislocated, as reported to be the fact by the physician who conducted the autopsy. Neither did he find a fracture in the neck such as the report of the autopsy showed. He did not make an examination of the back of the neck or head. He said he had blundered in his examination the day of the funeral and that it is now his opinion that death was caused by violence. Dr. McKee, who assisted in the examination at the request of citizens, testified to much the same purport as Dr. Caplinger.

Michigan Farmers' Clubs.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 6.—General resolutions adopted at the concluding session of the State Association of Farmers' Clubs Wednesday favor equal suffrage; decreasing appropriation for the fish commission, and increasing that for the traveling library system; the abolition of legislative junketing trips; a general reduction in official fees and salaries; the printing of school textbooks by the state and furnishing them to school districts at cost; and a law preventing appeals from justice courts in cases involving less than $50. Officers were chosen as follows: President, A. M. Kimmis, Jr., Wixom; vice-president, J. T. Daniels, Union Home; secretary, B. F. Peckham, Parma.

The German Naval Project.

London, Feb. 6.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says that the intention of introducing a big navy bill at the present session has been abandoned, but the idea has not been relinquished, and a bill will be drafted in readiness for the next session.

HUMPHREY'S TRIAL COMES APRIL 6.

He Pleads Not Guilty to the Charge of Burglary.

Lyle S. Humphrey will come before Judge Phelps for trial on the charge of burglary April 6. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned yesterday afternoon.

As will be remembered by readers of the Gazette, Humphrey was married in 1891 to Gertrude Eager, a well-known young lady of Evansville. After living together for a few months they separated. On January 9 last, it is charged, Humphrey entered the residence of his father-in-law, Almeron Eager, at Evansville, by crawling through the window. Going to the bed chamber of his wife, it is alleged, he attempted to do her bodily harm. Was frightened away, but was arrested at Madison. Humphrey pleaded not guilty to the charge of burglary, and was released on a bond in the sum of fifty dollars to appear on April 6. They have one child. The parties are highly connected, and the affair has caused a stir in Evansville social circles. Humphrey has been made defendant in divorce proceedings instituted by his wife, who alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. Mrs. Humphrey has been residing with her parents, and has the custody of their child.

ROBBED AND ALMOST KILLED.

Anton Bier's Feet Nearly Frozen Off, After His Dunlap Experience.

Anton Bier came back to Janesville yesterday afternoon in a pitiful condition. He was the Janesville boy whose case was mentioned in The Gazette some time ago. While in Dunlap, Iowa, he was assaulted, robbed, stripped of his clothing and shoes, and left on a cold winter's night to perish from exposure. He was discovered before life was extinct, and was taken to a hospital at Altoona, Iowa, where he received treatment. He lost his clothing, but he was supplied with more at the hospital. He has just recovered sufficiently to be able to come home. He was formerly a spinner in the Rock River Woolen mills at Monterey, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Bier, 252 Gold street. He is still unable to stand upon his feet, as his feet and legs were so badly frozen that he nearly lost them. He had to be carried from the train to the depot when he reached Janesville.

WATER POWER TRADED ABOUT

Bower City Light and Power Company and the Woolen Mills Arrangement.

By mutual consent the Janesville Woolen Company and the Bower City Light and Power Company have decided to exchange water power at their Monterey plants. The water as used by the Bower City Company comprises four hundred inches and is turned over to the use of the Woolen company during the day time, while the same courtesy is shown by the Woolen company during the night time. "We at present control 2,300 inches," remarked Manager Ellis, "but are now only using on an average of 1,600 inches and this exchange of power is only a simple exchange of courtesy."

GOOD TIMES IN SOCIETY HALLS

Union Catholic League Members Join in a Dance—Odd Fellows' Surprise.

Seventy-five couples passed merry hours in the newly furnished hall of the Union Catholic League last evening. R. J. Dunn, Fred Viney and Ed Hemming were in charge of the hall and dancing kept up until 1 o'clock. During the evening the ladies served coffee, sandwiches and cake.

Members of Wisconsin Lodge No. 14 I. O. O. F. were surprised by a visit from their wives last night. The surprise had a substantial aspect for tables were loaded with dainties and proved very tempting.

CALEDONIANS MADE LITTLE MONEY

This Year's Profits Swallowed Up By Last Year's Losses.

The crowd at the Burns' party made it look as if profits were enormous. "You would be surprised to see how heavy our expenses were, however," remarked a member of the Caledonian society this morning. "Taking the fact into consideration that there were fully three hundred dead heads there, for all members of the association had free tickets, it will be seen that the clear profit wasn't as large after all. What we did make went to meet the deficit carried over from last year."

LIGHT INFANTRY ARE IMPROVING.

ONE MAN FROM HERE
BIDS FOR BONDSC. T. SHEPARD'S NAME APPEARS ON THE LIST.

None of the Local Banks Put in a Bid As Money Can Be Used to Better Advantage in Other Ways—Western Money Is Higher than Is Cash Down East.

One Janesville man bid on the new bond issue. Charles T. Shepard, of this city, appears on the list as bidding $1.09 for $2,100 worth of the bonds. The fact that prices ranged so much higher than the figure at which Mr. Cleveland made, the first sale was pointed out as an expression of public opinion on the late secret bond sale by the administration. It will be remembered that those who opposed the republican bill for a bond sale at a lower rate of interest declared with emphasis that a popular loan could not be floated at interest rates approximately 3 per cent.

None of the Bower City banks put in a bid for bonds. There is plenty of money on deposit but better investments are offered and the banks did not care to tie up funds in low interest bonds.

A Rare Bird.

The rarest species of bird now extant, and one which is almost extinct, has its home in the jungles of South America. This ornithological curiosity is known to science as the palamedra cornuda, and to the common people, as the "horned screamer." As a rare avian nothing could excel the cornuda, unless it should be the accidental discovery of a living moa, or an epinornis. But few of the bird books even let you know that such a horned paradox ever existed, let alone telling you that living specimens of the queer creature are occasionally met with. The only one now in captivity in North America, if the writer was not misinformed, is that belonging to the aviary of the Philadelphia Zoological gardens, and which arrived in this country about three years ago. The creature is about the size of a full-grown turkey hen, and of a blackish brown color. One of its distinguished peculiarities is a ruffle of black and white which surrounds the head.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

THE LANDLORD'S ADVICE.

He instructed the Drummer in the Art of Making a Sale.

He had arrived in a southwestern town with his patent washing machine—warranted to do the work of ten women and save three-fifths of the soap—but before doing any business he thought it might be a good thing to advise with the landlord of the hotel, says the Detroit Free Press.

"Just a washing machine, is it?" queried the landlord, as he looked the thing over.

"Yes, a washing machine, but the best on earth."

"Order be a wheel of fortune or sunthin' of that kind to be a go, but mebbe you kin hit some of 'em. That's a dog fight and a horse race tomorrow, and it'll be a good day for you."

"Are there any peculiarities to look out for?" inquired the agent.

"Wall, yes, a few. You'd better begin bizness by callin' up all hands to take a drink."

"I see."

"If you hev to talk any more tell 'em that's another drink ahead."

"I understand."

"If the old man Jones comes in with his boys that'll be a row on the street. They ar' bad folks and shoot on sight. Keep your eye peeled, and if you see any signs of a row ask the hull crowd to drink."

"Yes, but—"

"Look out for dog fights. If one takes place on the street you can't hold the boys a minit. Keep your eye on the canines. If you see a yaller pup begin to bristle up to a bob-tailed brindle yell to the crowd to step over and moisten."

"Yes, but by that time the whole crowd will be half drunk," protested the agent.

"Sartin it will, and that's what you want, of course. That will give you a chance to skip out and take your life with you, and if you make a stop anywhere within a hundred miles I'll send on the masheen—purvised that's anything left to send. Nothin' like knowin' how to handle one of these crowds, my friend. Did you ask me to take some-thing in advance of tomorrow?"

CORNERS OF THE EARTH.

A Negro Woman Who Has Walked from Georgia to Montana.

An aged colored woman who has walked all the way from Atlanta, Ga., to Helena, and is now only on the first part of the journey she has undertaken, arrived in the city three days ago and is being cared for by the family of James Crump at 1003 Ninth avenue, says the Helena Independent.

Impelled by a strange fanaticism, she has begun an earnest effort to do what she believes to be the will of God. It was revealed to her in a vision, she says, and as soon as she received the command she began the journey. She has been on the way since a year ago last May, and she will continue as long as life lasts, unless she should have another vision in the meantime, for she will not be able to accomplish what she has set out to do in her lifetime.

Her name is Mary Childs and she is 60 years old. She is bright and intelligent and speaks with understanding on many topics other than the mission she has set out to perform. Her hair is white and she looks older than she is, but she is robust enough to carry a heavy pack containing a camping outfit and she has become inured to the hardships of the road.

"What did I start out for?" she said. "Because the Lord told me to, and I can't do anything but obey His will." "Where are you going?" she was asked.

In answer she indicated the broad world without with a comprehensive wave of her hand. "To the four corners of the earth," she said.

"Aren't you afraid that something will happen to you on the way?" one of her hearers asked her again.

"Bless your soul! it would be all right, anyhow," she replied, with another gesture, meant in a general way to imply that she had faith; "and if the Lord wants me I am ready to go."

She has had a remarkable experience and the letters that she has obtained as she has gone along the way attest that she has made the journey as she says he has.

A STRANGE THING.

This Is Apparently An Absurd Conundrum.

But It Is, After All, So Very Absurd Upon Consideration.

There May Be Two Sides Even to a Fool Question.

At a recent meeting of medical experts, the apparently absurd question was propounded:

Which has the better chance of life, a sick or a well person?

At first it looked ridiculous, but after earnest discussion it was unanimously decided that an ordinary sick man had a better chance to live than the well man.

Why?

Few people are dangerously sick; the majority of sick people are those who are slightly out of health, out of order, exhausted in nerve and physical power from overwork, dissipation or other cause. For every dangerously sick person there are ninety-nine whose cases can be easily and readily cured.

In that lies the reason.

The ninety-nine cases who are sick, who have some weakness or are out of order, know of their weakness and debility and have the sense to take care of themselves and seek an immediate cure.

Of one hundred well persons, the majority are careless, depending too much upon their good health, until by exposure, overwork or dissipation, some weakness or disease is developed which may carry them off quickly.

So it is that ninety-nine careful sick people have a better chance of living than the one hundred careless well persons.

The first thing a sick person decides is to get well. Naturally, also, such a person desires the best and quickest means of cure and common sense dictates the use of such a valuable and reputable medicine as Dr. Greene's Nerve and Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Every sufferer knows from the experience of thousands upon thousands of others, whose testimonials of cure are continually appearing in every paper, that this well known and proven restorative is the surest and most positive cure—that the very name of Dr. Greene's Nerve and Blood and Nerve Remedy, is a synonym for power, vigor and strength, and that its use will certainly make the sick well and give to the weak, nervous and debilitated all their old time health, energy and ambition.

Mrs. A. P. Prescott, of Swiftwater, N. H., says:

"My husband has been very sick and was confined to his bed for five months, and all that time I took care of him night and day, and gave him all his medicine. During his long sickness, I became almost worn out and fell into a state of nervousness. I go so that I could not sleep, and when I lay down my limbs would twitch and I had an awful pain in the back of my head so that I was obliged to get up in the night and put mustard poultices on the spot to relieve it. 'I think if I had not found relief I should have been insane. But I did get relief in Dr. Greene's Nerve and Blood and Nerve Remedy. I saw it advertised and heard of it through my friends, and I got three bottles and was completely relieved, so that I slept well and ate well. 'I certainly think I never should have kept up if it had not been for Dr. Greene's Nerve and Blood and Nerve Remedy, and I can truly say it is a wonderfully good medicine and recommend it to all. I attribute my present good health and my being able to go through what I have to Dr. Greene's Nerve and Blood and Nerve Remedy.'"

Understand that Dr. Greene's Nerve and Blood and Nerve Remedy is a physician's prescription, the discovery of that most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th St., New York City, who can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

FOUND IT WAS NO USE.

They Quit When They Discovered He Was a Yank.

Governor Matthews is telling a good story he heard in the South recently, says the Indianapolis Journal. In a valley in the northern part of Georgia, between two mountains, which shut out all communication with the outside world, there lived an old planter who, while an ardent adherent of the Southern cause, was too badly crippled by infirmities to shoulder a musket and march barefooted. But he had a son whom he sent, and after the boy had disappeared down the road the old man waited for the news of the strife. Occasionally rumors of Southern victories would float over the mountains and the old man—Uncle S., he was called—would rejoice and take an unusually large dose of mint julep. At other times, when reverse news came and it was reported that the gray had been turned back, the old man would bitterly lament and use the same remedy for grief and sorrow that he used to quiet his joy. Through it all he had abundant faith in the ultimate victory of the confederate army, and any doubt expressed would meet with a stern rebuke.

The years wore on and news failed to arrive. The valley was deserted and there was no one to learn the course of events. The old man smoked his pipe and waited impatiently for news. One morning as he sat on the front porch, with his pipe, far down the dusty road appeared the form of a solitary pedestrian. Gradually he approached and the feeble vision of the aged planter recognized his long-absent son. The puffs from the pipe came thick and fast, but this was only the sign of eagerness or nervousness displayed. The gate swung open and the soldier walked up and sat down on the steps.

"Mornin', Jim," said the old man.

"Mornin', pap," was the quiet response.

"Shot?"

"No."

"Sick?"

"No."

The old man reached behind him for a stout club, which he used as a cane.

"Jim," he said, nervously; "Jim, ye didn't desert?"

"No; we're whupped."

"What?"

"Yes, we're whupped. Lee has surrendered with his army and we all laid down our guns."

The old man jabbed with his cane at a fly for a minute, and then, looking up with a troubled expression, asked:

"Jim, how'd it happen?"

"Well, pap, we all fit our best an' we giv' 'em h— as long as it was an even shake, but we all found out 'at the Lord was a Yank an' it was no use. We laid down our guns an' cum home."

ROYAL a Safeguard.

Royal is an absolutely pure cream of tartar BAKING POWDER, and is the brand which has been analyzed and recommended by the very highest authorities in the land.

The health officers of London, New-York and Chicago give it the greatest praise for its marvelous purity and leavening strength.

The market is full of low-grade baking powders. They are mostly made of alum and inferior ingredients, and are palmed off upon the public at a price which is lower than a high-grade powder can be sold for, and yet much greater than their intrinsic value.

All consumers should be on their guard, and whenever any baking powder is offered at a lower price than the Royal it will be safer to have it analyzed before using, to ascertain if it is not made from alum.

Married in a Buggy.

A couple at Rome, Ga., were married on the highway last week while seated in a buggy, the officiating clergyman also being in his buggy. The pair went to the minister's house, but found that he had gone out to dine and was not expected back until very late. Being indisposed to postpone the wedding until next day, they started out in a buggy for the house where the minister was dining, intending to have him perform the ceremony there. But they met him on the highway, returning. They halted him and explained their errand, the two buggies were driven alongside each other and the ceremony was performed there.

Austria Has a Surplus.

Austria has the unusual pleasure of seeing a surplus in its accounts of 20,000,000 florins for the year 1894, in spite of the unusual expenditure of 24,000,000 florins in putting the currency on a gold basis, and the prospect of an equally large surplus for 1895. At the same time the public debt has been reduced by 48,000,000 florins.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1865—Princess Anne and later Queen Anne, daughter of James II, born; died 1714.

1778—France officially acknowledged independence of United States and promised an alliance, a decisive event in the Revolution.

Previous to the treaties of alliance and of amity and commerce signed on this date the French government had secretly encouraged the colonies in their war for freedom by furnishing them arms and stores, without which successful war would have been impossible. Lafayette had already offered his sword, and soon after the treaty a French fleet from Toulon arrived in the Delaware. In the siege of Yorktown 37 French ships took part; also 7,000 French soldiers.

1894—General Jacob Ammen, a prominent Union veteran, died at Yorkland, O.; born 1801.

$500,000,000 LESSON FOR CLEVELAND

It took hard work by the press of the country to set Mr. Cleveland right on the bond question and make him give the people a chance.

Bids for $500,000,000 worth of bonds when but $100,000,000 worth are to be sold tell the result.

A year ago Mr. Cleveland deliberately put into the hands of a Wall street syndicate a bonus of $4,000,000. He would have compelled the payment of just such a bonus again had not congress and the press of the country interfered.

Taxpayers could see no reason why a lot of Wall street firms should fatten off the treasury. They demanded that the second issue of Cleveland bonds be offered to the people. Mr. Cleveland and his advisors demurred, the Wall street jugglers howled, but the people persisted. At last a grudging consent was given.

The president's friends said many foolish things about the impossibility of floating a $100,000,000 issue of bonds without Wall street's aid. Yesterday silenced them.

The bonds were taken five times over; the Rothschilds and Lazards of Europe got a hint of the resources of the United States and Mr. Cleveland, it is to be hoped was taught to rely more on the patriotism and public spirit of the business men of the country.

MONEY IN THE SOUTH.

A southern magazine prints reports from 500 correspondents on the financial condition of the farmers of that section. It is shown that the southern farmers are carrying less debt than ever before; that they are producing more provisions for home consumption, rapidly improving their farms and adding to their household comforts. The crop of fourteen southern states last year was 607,665,617 bushels, an increase of 124,000,000 bushels over 1894 and of 172,000,000 bushels over 1893. Southern agriculture is in excellent shape and grows in proportion as it is intelligently diversified. This fact is now so clearly proved that it should no longer be necessary to harp upon it.

Now that we have liquor, beer and cigarettes prohibited there is no logical reason why cigars, tobacco, and pipes should not receive the attention of our brilliant legislators. Then let us also prohibit limburger cheese, fried onions, chewing gum and corsets and make it a felony for a woman to wear shoes more than one size too small.

That flag bill proposed by Senator Hansborough is all right. He proposes to prevent the use of the national emblem with any advertisement for private gain. But why doesn't he go a step farther and include the cheap politicians who make the flag a stock in trade and use it to advance their own ends?

Even when the democrats find somebody to accept their presidential nomination their troubles would not be ended. There is a candidate for vice president to be found.

One republican candidate more or less in the presidential canvass makes no great difference. Any of the men named would be perfectly satisfactory to the people.

Tax payers are finding that the Peck administration, with all its pretense of economy, was about the most expensive luxury the state ever had.

Congress can't do a better thing for the country than to adjourn in April or even in March.

Amendment Declared Valid.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 6.—The Supreme court has passed on the validity of a proposed constitutional amendment to remove the state capitol from Jefferson City to Sedalia, holding the amendment as adopted by the legislature to be valid and that it must be voted upon next November.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

"A year ago you challenged me to fight a duel."

"Yes, and you backed out. You said you were just married and didn't care to die."

"Correct. But now I've changed my mind. The shooting can begin whenever you get ready—the sooner the better."—Dallas (Tex.) Sifter.

An Important Distinction.

"I suppose that it would take a great deal of observation and experience to enable a man to pick the fastest horse entered for a race," she remarked.

"Yes," replied the man of mournful experience; "but that isn't what you are trying to do. What you want is to pick the horse that is going to win."—Washington Star.

Their Need.

Miss Cyclopedia—Mrs. Wheeler's husband is too mean to live!

Miss Sprockett—How so?

Miss Cyclopedia—Why, the other day, he overheard me saying to his wife that we ought to have a bicycle club, and he sang out coarsely: "What's the matter with an ax?"—Puck.

Properly Described.

"He's one of those self-acting clerks," said the proprietor of the little gunshop, in speaking of the young man who had quit his employ.

"How is that?" asked the patron.

"He discharges himself."—Chicago Post.

Made Her Tired.

The teacher of the infant class at the Sunday school, to interest the little ones, had begun to tell them the story of the fall of man, when a mite of a girl was heard to exclaim aloud: "Oh, I'm so tired of that story about the Adamases!"—Boston Transcript.

Very Soothing.

Patient—Doctor, do you think I will recover?

Dr. Sooner—Yes; I am sure of it. You are the 40th. One in 40 recovers from your disease, and the 39 that I have treated are all dead, so you can't help getting well.—Dallas (Tex.) Sifter.

A First Consideration.

Now Cupid—busy little man—Doth boldly cry for room,

And prove that he is greater than A presidential boom.

A Petition.

O, kindly fate, and pitying, Avert from my poor head,

A Modest Wayfarer.

The Lady—Now, I suppose you won't spend this money for that vile liquor.

The Tramp—Well, mum, I'll do me best; but I'm not a connoisseur, an' I generally has to drink it afore I can tell whether it's good or bad.—Puck.

Queer Combination.

Dukane—What a strange ornithological-quadrupedal combination young Manchester is.

"What do you mean?"

Dukane—He has pigeon toes and a hoarse voice.—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

The Moth and the Candle.

She—Yes, they are engaged. I know she refused him twice, but the third time he proposed she accepted him.

Her Husband—Serves him right.—Brooklyn Life.

Bess—You didn't tell him?

Jess—Of course not; I said you didn't look it.—Town Topics.

A Way to Peace.

"All this country wants," said Mr. Dolan, "is peace. An', begorra, we'll get it, too, if we hov to fight fur it."—Washington Star.

GRANDMA IN A BOX BILLED "FURNITURE."

SEVENTY-YEAR-OLD WOMAN'S
1,100 MILE TRIP.

To Save Money She Planned to Travel From Here to Arkansas With Her Little Granddaughter in a Piano Box Padded With Bed Quilts.

Grandma Skinner will not go to Arkansas in a padded piano box, billed as furniture.

Her enterprising plan was defeated. Mrs. Skinner is seventy years old, but her wits are keener than ever. She, her son and her little granddaughter have been living between Janesville and Beloit, but made up their mind Wisconsin was too cold.

"We'll go back to Arkansas," said Mrs. Skinner decisively.

There were difficulties, however. The Skinner family is poor.

The 1,100 mile journey was to have begun at noon today from Beloit where the car was loaded. Railroad men suspected something irregular, and sent for Freight Inspector Goodwin. Goodwin went down at noon and soon had the whole story.

To move their scanty household fixtures and buy railroad tickets as well would be out of question.

Mrs. Skinner, with the shrewdness of seventy years, solved the problem. "We'll get a car for the furniture and the two sheep," she said. "You, Billy, you can go along in one end of the car with the sheep as drover and not pay anything. Then we will pad up this big piano box with quilts inside and Sisay and I will crowd in there and be nailed up. We can all go through without paying anything except for freight."

So much sympathy was felt for Mrs. Skinner in Beloit that Agent Croft and the Grand Army started subscription papers at once and the family will be able to go to Arkansas in better style.

"It's a good thing you were found out," said Agent Croft to Mrs. Skinner. "You would have frozen to death in that box the first night on the road."

Bobby Gaylor Tomorrow Night.

The presentation of a new play is always an interesting event, but the addition of a popular comedian changing his line of stage work at the same time should be doubly so. This is what the management of the opera house will offer tomorrow night, when Robert Gaylor, who has heretofore appeared only in vaudeville and farce comedy will present a brand new sensational comedy drama of metropolitan life entitled "In a Big City," by Charles T. Vincent.

HIGH SCHOOL MOURN AN ARTIST'S DEATH

ALICE MAY WILLIAMS' FUNERAL TODAY.

She Was the Illustrator of the High School Annual Soon to Be Published and Every Assurance Was Given of Her Success In Artistic Lines.

From a darkened home all that was mortal of Alice May Williams was taken this morning. Funeral services were held at 10:30, Rev. Dr. Halsey and Rev. Mr. Hammond officiating.

Among the floral tributes were many that showed the sorrow of Miss Williams' friends, among the high school teachers and graduates. The pall bearers were Bert Williams, William Davis, Lynn Williams, William Drummond, James Drummond and A. Drummond, all cousins of the deceased.

The singers were chosen from the high school as far as possible, and were Professor H. C. Buell, Miss Cora Anderson and Mrs. C. L. Clark.

Miss Williams was the only child of Abijah Williams, and her father's affection centered in her, his wife having been taken away when the daughter was an infant. She filled a large place in the home and returned richly the love that was lavished upon her.

She was a graduate of the Janesville high school, being a member of the class of '93. She was an unusually fine penman and her work adorns many of the pages of the high school annual.

soon to be issued. A special course of art training had been planned for her, and hopes of brilliant success seemed well founded.

Miss Williams' death resulted from paralysis, which came upon her while she was suffering from bilious fever. Shortly before her death she gave signs of rallying, and the appearance of strength made her death when it came, a double shock.

A Leader,

We don't expect to make a great deal of money on our $2.50 ladies special shoe, it's more for a leader as we have said before. Our $2.50 special Dongola kid is as good, if not better than the usual $3.50 and $4.00 shoe and when you can buy this shoe in the very latest style at $2.50, why buy shelf worn goods and pay the same money? Richardson Shoe Co.

The Paper Retracted.

A small provincial paper in England, referring to a man who had a reputation for a careless toilet, announced as follows:

"Mr. Makeup will wash himself before he assumes the office of parish clerk." On reading this, Makeup was furious, and he demanded a retraction, which the paper made thus:

"Mr. Makeup requests us to deny that he will wash himself before he assumes the office of parish clerk."

A Light Outfit.

A cold draft of air rushed into the room. "Bridget," called the mistress sharply, "who left that outside door open?"

"Please, mum, it was the plumber, just goin' away," replied the girl. "Well," retorted the mistress, "didn't he have any manners?"

"No, mum," answered Bridget, with a hired girl's rigid adherence to truth: "he didn't have nothin' but just his little gasoline stove."—N. Y. Recorder.

Couldn't Keep Them All.

He—Did you hear about Prof. Mash-eer, the lecturer, having to cancel his engagements?

She—Mercy, no! Has he been drinking?

He—No; he married one of the engagements, and had to cancel the rest. He spent the summer at Asbury, you know.—Judge.

He Flattered Himself.

A Dallas couple who do not get along very well together had the following conversation:

He—If I were to die you would never get another husband like me.

She—What makes you think I'd ever want another husband like you?—Dallas (Tex.) Sifter.

An Economical Arrangement.

Women's Rights in Indiana.

The legal rights of women are nowhere in the union more liberal than in the state of Indiana. In a recent address by a lawyer before the Woman's club in Indianapolis these were thus formulated: "Since 1881 a married woman may hold real or personal property the same as if she were unmarried. She is now permitted to become surety or indorser for her husband, or any other person. She may carry on any trade or business, and perform any labor or service on her separate account, and is entitled to her separate earnings. Her legal condition is one of comparative freedom and independence. The policy of the law of recent years has been to remove her disabilities, and at the same time to protect her from the machinations of those who might seek to take advantage of her inexperience and of her willingness to sacrifice everything material for the sake of those she loves."

A Snake Adjourned Court.

George Stevenson, a traveling museum man, charged his employer, Robert Sidesworth, with stealing a raccoon and a big rattlesnake. Both "varmints" were brought into Judge Byerly's court in New York, where the rattlesnake escaped from its box. Officers, witnesses and spectators bolted out through the side doors, and even Judge Byerly, a veteran soldier, fled, making his exit by the fire escape. The rattler was captured, but the case went over to allow the court to regain its nerve.

Sculpture Under Ground.

While a workman engaged in a Pueblo, Colo., stonemason was dressing a block of stone his chisel laid bare a round knot or knob near the surface of the rock. A stroke of the hammer vigorously applied for the purpose of smoothing down the nodule had the effect of dislodging it entire. An investigation proved that the underside of the stone knot bore a perfect model of a human face. Who owned that face and in what age of the world did he live?

HOW MANY WOMEN DO YOU KNOW

Who Can Say They Are Thoroughly Well? How They Can Be Strong.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.] I don't feel very well; I am so tired all the time; I don't know what is the matter with me.

You hear these words every day. As often as you meet your friends, just so often are the words repeated. More than likely you speak the same pregnant words yourself, and there is no doubt but that you do feel far from well most of the time.

There is a cause, And — There is a remedy for all that is covered by those words so constantly spoken by women.

Lydia E. Pinkham discovered the source of nearly all the suffering endured by the sex.

"Women's Complaints," — these two words are full of more misery to women than any two words that can be found in the language of the world.

Sudden fainting, depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or to do anything, backache, "bearing down," and kindred symptoms of serious disturbance seldom imagined by your family physician, and reluctantly mentioned by you.

The remedy is found; the same noble woman who discovered the cause of all your misery also worked out the remedy. All druggists have it.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest blessing that ever came into the lives of suffering women.

Tom Masson, Humorist.

Tom Masson, the new managing editor of New York Life, looks like a young man, but he has been writing graceful society verse, funny sketches and witty paragraphs for about nine years and is the father of twins. He was born in Essex, Conn., in 1866. His father was a sea captain, and until he was 12 the future humorist was a sailor lad. He began making jokes when he started out as a commercial traveler, but he found there was more money in writing them. He went to work for the American Press Association and became a well known humorist.

Will Manage a Big Exposition.

The universal exposition which is to be held in Paris in 1900 is to be directed by a Frenchman who probably knows more about such things than any other living man. This is Alfred Picard, who has been elected commissioner general

COMMISSIONER GENERAL ALFRED PICARD, of the exposition. Picard is an Alsatian and is about 50 years of age. He has built reservoirs, canals and railroads, written a "History of French Railroads" and has been president of the section of public works, agriculture, commerce and industry in the state council. He assisted at the last Paris exposition and will doubtless make the coming one a huge success.

The Champion Globe Trotter.

The champion globe trotter is Frank Vincent. For 25 years past he has either been roaming over the earth's surface or working hard at plans for some new journey. During his long career as a globe trotter he has traveled 355,000 miles, a record that has never been equalled. Vincent figures that he has traveled a distance equaling 14 times around the earth. Of this distance 265,000 miles have been traversed by water, 50,000 by railway, 22,000 by animal back, 11,000 by foot and 7,000 by coach, carriage and palanquin. Egypt, Vincent thinks, is the most interesting country. But he says New York is the best city in the world to live in, and he proposes to pass the remainder of his days in the neighborhood of the American metropolis.

A Prince as a Soldier.

Accompanying the expedition which the English have sent to Ashanti to punish King Prempeh for keeping Englishmen out of Kumassi is Prince Henry of Battenberg, who married Princess Beatrice, the favorite daughter of the queen.

Prince Henry has never been considered a pugnacious man and the British sometimes called him Prince Beatrice, but now that he has buckled on a big sword and gone off in a fine uniform to fight the savages, he is more popular. The prince is 37 years old and was almost penniless before he found a princess with a big income.

PRINCE HENRY.

The Man at the Lever.

The locomotive engineer is a remarkably placid fellow, with a habit of deliberate precision in his look and motions. He occasionally turns a calm eye to his gauge and then resumes a quiet watch ahead. Three levers which he has to manipulate are under his hand for instant use, and when they are used it is quietly and in order, as an organist pulls out his stops. The noise in the cab makes conversation difficult, but not as bad as that heard in the car when passing another train, with or without the windows open, and in looking out of the engine cab the objects are approached gradually, not rushed past as when one looks laterally out of a parlor-car window. The fact is that the engineer does not look at the side—he is looking ahead—and therefore the speed seems less, as the objects are approached gradually.

Those who have ridden at ninety miles an hour on a locomotive know that on a good road (and there are many such) the engine is not shaken and swayed in a terrible manner but is rather comfortable and the speed is not so apparent as when one is riding in a parlor car, where only a lateral view is had. The engineer can be very comfortable if he is quite sure of the track ahead and it is only in rounding curves or in approaching crossings that he feels nervous, and it is doubtful if it is any more strain to run a locomotive at high speed than to ride a bicycle through crowded thoroughfares. Judging by the countenances of the bicycle rider and the engineer, the engineer has rather the best of it.—Railroad Gazette.

The Protection Policy Applied to a Great Janesville Clothing House....

Boiled down, this is it---to create the greatest value for the least money. It's easy to sell at the average price. We're doing a great deal better now than selling $10.00 Suits for $10.00. We are selling what have been known as ten and twelve dollar suits for many a day for $6.00 and $7.50. You'll be told it can't be. All we say is: There's a host of people who have had them and selling a dozen to twenty a day is a common occurrence even during these dull days.

The Best Speech Makers and Advertisements We Have

Today are the Satisfied Wearers of These...

Bring 'em back if they are not satisfactory. THAT'S OUR PROTECTION TO YOU. Bring 'em back for your money. Our best $18, $20 and $25 Suits and Overcoats at exact cost to us if you want them. The season is advancing but it would seem it would pay you to buy a heavy Suit or Overcoat and lay it aside for next winter. Don't be tempted to buy poor clothes. You are easily fooled if you do. What is there about poor stuff that you like so much? You can see with your own eyes the such clothes don't fit. You can feel with your own hands that they're made of base material. Is it that price? They are more expensive than good clothes. The only thing we can think of is that you buy poor clothes just to be stubborn and nothing else.
